Subject: ice cream trucks

I love living in Long Beach, have been here for seven years. I am generally very proud of my city but isn't there SOMETHING more useful that my city council could be doing than regulating the sounds from ice cream trucks?!?!? Really! How about dealing with hunger, homelessness, pollution ...something!

The sound of the ice cream man is a fond memory for most of us and even now, I find the sound far less intrusive than those stupid people going down the road blaring their poor taste in "music". If you want to do something about noise pollution, ticket those people. Or very loud motor cycles! Please, please put my tax dollars to better use.

Sincerely,
