Honoring Jenni Rivera

Jenni was a born and raised in Long Beach and was a Latin Grammy nominated singer, songwriter, actress, television producer and entrepreneur, and was named the "Top Latin Artist of 2013."

She was a powerful advocate for Latinas, the Latino community and immigrants.

Throughout her career, she encouraged young women, especially young immigrant women, to reach high and seek opportunities for success.

Honoring Carolyn Smith Watts

Carolyn was deeply committed to her faith, her husband, her family, and her community. She was a dynamic speaker, facilitator and community activist having founded several Long Beach organizations and served in many roles.

Carolyn served as president of Leadership Long Beach and often said that she loved being a part of the organization that allowed her to be a part of the fabric of the Long Beach community.

Honoring Eunice Sato

Eunice served as Long Beach's first Asian-American female mayor.

In an interview in 2015, Sato said she made it a goal to work wherever service was needed and to do her best for society. When a person does that, she said, they have no regrets.

That is who Sato was, a public servant and a trailblazer for women in leadership and our community as a whole.
