

An architectural rendering of a large, multi-story hotel building with a prominent central tower. The building is white with a red-tiled roof and a clock tower. The scene is set against a sunset sky with palm trees in the foreground. The text "THE BREAKERS HOTEL & SPA" is overlaid in the center.

THE BREAKERS HOTEL & SPA

A historical black and white photograph of a city street, likely Long Beach, California. The image shows a wide street with vintage cars and pedestrians. In the background, several tall buildings are visible. The most prominent building in the center has a clock tower with the words "BEACH HOTEL" on its side. To the right, another large building with many windows is visible. The overall scene depicts a bustling urban environment from the early 20th century.

A modern coffee shop interior with large windows, marble tables, and a view of a city street. The space features a high ceiling with a grid pattern and several white spherical pendant lights. The floor is made of light-colored wood in a herringbone pattern. In the foreground, there are long marble-topped tables with black metal chairs. To the right, there is a seating area with beige and green armchairs and a small round table. Large windows on the right side offer a view of a city street with palm trees and modern buildings. A large green plant is visible on the left side of the frame.

The image shows the interior of a jazz club. On the left, there is a bar with a backlit menu and a large arched window above it. The bar is lined with high-top stools. In the center and right, there are several clusters of plush, red velvet armchairs with gold-colored frames, arranged around small round tables. The room has a dark, textured carpet and walls with vertical wood paneling. A large window in the background offers a view of a city skyline at night. The lighting is warm and intimate, with pendant lights hanging from the ceiling and wall sconces.
