Gerardo Mouet Named New Director of Parks, Recreation and Marine

On May 25, City Manager Pat West named Gerardo Mouet as the new City's Director of Parks, Recreation and Marine. Mr. Mouet brings 28 years of local government experience including overseeing parks, recreation and community services operations, human resources administration, and city-wide budget development and contract administration in his previous positions.

For the past 14 years, Gerardo has served as the executive director for the City of Santa Ana's Parks, Recreation and Community Services Agency. During his tenure, he managed 50 parks, 17 Recreation Centers, the Santa Ana Zoo and the Public Library System. He oversaw a budget of $24 million annually with 72 full-time employees and 350 part-time employees. Gerardo is also a member of the Orange County Fair and Event Center Board of Directors.

"Mr. Mouet has a wealth of expertise having served in a similar capacity at a large urban municipality. He will be a great asset to the team with his track record of creative program development and general municipal management," said Mr. West.

The Parks, Recreation and Marine Department is comprised of over 1,000 full-time and part-time employees with a budget of over $55 million that provides animal care services, marine and beach maintenance, park facilities and ground maintenance, community recreation services and department administration.

"Long Beach Parks, Recreation and Marine has a national reputation for providing outstanding quality services to the community. I am honored to join the City of Long Beach team to continue delivering excellent programs and services. It is exciting to be part of this dynamic community," said Mr. Mouet.

Mr. Mouet holds a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science from the University of California, San Diego. Mr. Mouet is replacing Stephen Scott, who filled the position on an interim basis. Mr. Scott will return to his Deputy Director and Business Operations Manager position in the Department of Parks, Recreation and Marine.

"Mr. Scott is a valued member of our team at the Parks, Recreation and Marine Department. I would like to thank him for stepping into the leadership role as Interim Director once again and for his continued service with the City," said Mr. West.

Mr. Mouet's appointment will be effective June 18, 2018.

"100 Days of Summer" Begins in Long Beach

A free concert from the band Under Cover got the "100 Days of Summer" started in Long Beach on May 25. Marina Vista Park was packed with people dancing, picnicking and having fun.

From Memorial Day to Labor Day, the City of Long Beach will offer hundreds of free or low-cost cultural programs, sports activities, and special events throughout the City.

"100 Days of Summer" is a partnership between Long Beach Parks, Recreation and Marine and the Long Beach Convention and Visitor's Bureau to promote opportunities to "stay and play" in Long Beach during the summer.

The website, www.100daysofsummer.org provides residents with ideas for fun activities without having to travel far or spend a lot of money, such as free concerts and movies, recreation programs in City parks, aquatics programs, and events at El Dorado Nature Center and the Rancho Los Alamitos and Rancho Los Cerritos Historic Sites.

PRM Receives American Planning Association Awards

Long Beach Parks, Recreation and Marine (PRM) received two prestigious awards from the Los Angeles section of the American Planning Association (APA) on June 7, that recognize and celebrate noteworthy planning projects, plans, and programs in the Los Angeles region.

PRM received a “Public Outreach” Award of Excellence for the Uptown Open Space Vision Plan. Led by the Office of Vice Mayor Rex Richardson, PRM, the Department of Health and Human Services, and City Fabrick (a nonprofit design studio), the plan draws upon community input to creatively identify and enhance public open spaces to provide accessibility within a 10-minute walk for residents of North Long Beach. The Plan was informed by a three-phase, community-driven engagement process, which culminated in a “Color Block Walk” event where residents used washable color powders to express possibilities for open space.

Gumbiner Park received an Award of Excellence in the Urban Design category. Creative vision, strong community and stakeholder engagement, diligent advocacy for open space, and concern for enhanced public safety resulted in the opening of Gumbiner Park in downtown Long Beach in April 2017. Led by PRM and the Department of Public Works, the project replaced a portion of Martin Luther King Jr. Avenue that was previously known as one of the most dangerous intersections in the City, with new recreation and open space resources and increased park access for the community.

The APA is a professional organization representing the field of city and regional planning in the United States. For more information visit: <http://apalosoangeles.org/>.

Southern California Association of Governments Honors Willow Springs Wetlands Restoration

Long Beach Parks, Recreation and Marine's (PRM) Willow Springs Park Wetlands Restoration Project was recognized in May by the Southern California Association of Governments (SCAG) for Outstanding Achievement in Sustainability. The award recognizes planning efforts that enhance the mobility, livability, and sustainability of the Southern California region.

The City celebrated the restoration of the Willow Springs Park Wetlands in October 2017. The 12-acre project transformed a once inaccessible area within Willow Springs Park into a revitalized space featuring pedestrian trails, wetland and coastal sage scrub restoration areas, and an outdoor classroom for environmental education.

SCAG is the nation's largest metropolitan planning organization and undertakes a variety of planning and policy initiatives to plan for a livable and sustainable Southern California now and in the future. For more information on SCAG's regional efforts, visit: <http://scag.ca.gov/ga2018>.

PRM Ranks in Top 21 of Park Systems Among 100 Largest US Cities

Long Beach Parks, Recreation and Marine (PRM) has risen to number 21 among the 100 largest U.S. city park systems in the Trust for Public Land's (TPL) 2018 ParkScore® Index survey, a rise from 24th place rank in 2017.

"Long Beach residents and visitors enjoy exceptional parks and open space areas," said Mayor Robert Garcia. "Our Parks, Recreation, and Marine staff work hard every day to provide leisure programs, maintain parks, beaches and marinas, and to add and improve recreational open space areas. This ranking is a testament to their efforts."

The TPL Report commended PRM for its walkable park access in the city where 81 percent of residents live within a 10-minute walk to a park. Also noted was the City's investment in parks and recreation of $208 per resident, compared to the national median of $105. PRM also stood out for the number of off-leash dog recreation areas, and senior centers that serve residents throughout the City.

"Our park system is part of what provides a great quality of life in the City of Long Beach," said Stephen P. Scott, Interim Director of PRM. "We are proud of our efforts to provide more recreational open space within walking distance of residents. In recent months we have created new greenbelts with walking paths and bike trails at the

The TPL Report ranks parks according to park access, the percentage of residents who have a park within a half-mile of their home, a city's median park size and the percentage of total city area dedicated to parks, and the city park spending per resident.

Long Beach Municipal Band Celebrates 109 Years

The Long Beach Municipal Band has been part of the cultural and musical heritage of Long Beach for over 100 years. Back this year for a six-week season of concerts, the summer 2018 theme is "The Sizzling Sounds of Summer."

Week One: June 26-29      Barnum and Bailey Salute

This week's music is not so much a tribute to the circus, but more to the band that provided the musical excitement. Their day started with a town parade, leading citizens to nearby circus tents. Next followed impromptu concerts as the crowd assembled. Later when the circus began, the band performed non-stop. It was the most demanding band music of the era. We salute these extraordinarily talented musicians by performing music from the Barnum and Bailey library. Barbara Morrison returns in her starring role, singing with The Studio Band.

Week Two: July 3, 5 & 6      A Star-Spangled Salute

Happy Independence Week! The state legislature has proclaimed this to be "Long Beach Municipal Band Week," so we have a couple of reasons to celebrate our heritage. Additionally the Studio Band presents an American tribute to "The Andrew Sisters," performed by the sensational Swing Dolls!

Week Three: July 10-13      A Musical Journey

It's always fun to experience other cultures. This week the band does the traveling while you relax in the park with music from around the world. You'll return home with a mind filled with musical memories. Meloney Collins lends her considerable musical talents to our journey.

Week Four: July 17-20      Southern Harmonies

So many American originals were created in The South, but none were more influential than the music inspired by the confluence of French, African, and Spanish traditions that resulted in the birth of Creole and Cajun cultures. American Jazz owes its existence to these exciting, improvised harmonies and rhythms. Listen and enjoy! The great vocal artist Julie Ragins closes this evening of American originals.

Week Five: July 24-27      Off Broadway

Across this great nation one can attend Broadway musicals, including the King and I, Chicago, The Lion King, or Phantom of the Opera, but why do all that traveling when you can experience these wonderful songs in one night, here in Long Beach? You will also receive the added bonus of the fabulous entertainer, Tony Galla with The Studio Band.

Week Six: July 30 – Aug. 3

Latin Heat!!

Our season finale presents a truly sizzling evening of Latin music. The last concerts of summer are always special experiences for band and audience alike. This one will resound in our collective memories for months to come. Nicole Kubis joins The Studio Band to complete this exciting evening. Don't miss this very special performance.

Beaches and Marina Update

Long Beach Marinas Re-Certified as Clean Marinas

Long Beach's Alamitos Bay, Shoreline and Rainbow Harbor Marinas have received a five-year recertification from the Clean Marine program, a marine industry alliance that promotes environmentally clean marinas and boat yard facilities. The program helps protect coastal and inland waters from pollution by encouraging industry best management practices.

"Our team is excited about the renewal of the Clean Marine certification," said Elvira Hallinan, Manager of Beaches and Marinas. "Boaters will be welcomed by the Clean Marine flag, letting them know that we're committed to operating the City marinas in an environmentally friendly manner."

Long Beach's marinas received the recertification following inspection and evaluation processes conducted by independent marine industry professionals. The processes included evaluating marina policies and procedures and boater education efforts for on-site vessel maintenance; sewage, solid waste, and liquid waste management practices; storm water runoff systems; environmental programs; and debris prevention and clean up practices.

Long Beach has participated as a Clean Marine member since 2006, and has maintained uninterrupted program certifications since that time. The Marine Recreation Association of California, an industry professional association and advocacy group, endorses the program.

Queensway Bay Sign Renovation

Maintenance Assistants Salvador Ballesteros and Mark Januszka from the Marine Bureau Facility Maintenance team recently renovated the large Queensway Bay signs at the top of the stairs on the Promenade Bridge by the Hyatt Hotel and Long Beach Convention Center. The faded signs were replaced with more colorful and vibrant signs to make a great impression on the thousands of visitors who come to the area each year.

Employee of the Month: Alex Gomez

Congratulations to Alex Gomez on being named Employee of the Month for the month of May.

Alex joined the PRM team six months ago as a custodian with the Maintenance Operations Bureau and supports multiple parks throughout the City.

Alex is constantly receiving compliments from the staff at the facilities he maintains. He always has an upbeat attitude and friendly demeanor.

Even with a limited schedule, Alex takes the time to go above and beyond, to make facilities ready for the public. He has gone to great lengths to clean patio areas and windows at sites that have had homeless encampments. Even though these spaces are tough to clean and require significant resources, he has readily takes on these challenges. One day while cleaning the patio at Veterans Park Community Center, he said the was worried that when the kids arrived for the After School Program it wouldn't be clean. He truly takes pride in his job and we are lucky to have him on our team.

Alex is a role model to others and a great addition to the PRM family! In his free time he enjoys football and spending time with his three children and girlfriend.
