11. Please describe why you wish to serve on the Independent Redistricting Commission and share any additional experience, community activities, or other qualifications that make you a strong candidate for the Commission, including, but not limited to, analytical skills, familiarity with the City's neighborhoods and communities, ability to be impartial, and ability to work cooperatively with other potential commissioners. (Max. 1800 Characters, approximately 250-300 words)

I would like very much to serve on the Independent Redistricting Commission. I have lived in Long Beach for 31 years, working at California State University, Long Beach during this time. My position as an Information Technologist supports a diverse campus of students, faculty and staff. As a statistical consultant, I support users with such programs as SPSS, SAS and ArcGIS. In addition to campus-wide positions, my Ph.D. is in Public Health and I have written/managed community health grants over a period of twenty years. A highlight of my career was receiving the CSULB "Outstanding Staff" leadership award in 2012 for service to the university community. Recently I began supporting campus election software, which protects voter privacy and electorate confidentiality. I am excited to bring my skills and experience to the Commission.

I take great pride in our city and community. As an active member of the Lakewood Village Neighborhood Association, I have coordinated its elections with wonderful committees, served as an authority of Robert's Rules of Order, and continue in my position as Neighborhood Watch Block Captain for my street.

My wife and I have raised two daughters here in Long Beach. Both attended neighborhood public schools. My wife worked 22 years as a school nurse and Program Specialist for the district. Now our youngest daughter is a teacher in LBUSD! We are truly a Long Beach family!

My work on numerous committees throughout my career has been one of cooperation, shared governance and completion of objectives toward a common goal. The redistricting process should be equitable for all residents of Long Beach. I will serve as an impartial commissioner with a sharp sense of fairness.

Thank you for your consideration.

I was blessed to be born, raised, educated and employed in Long Beach which has given me a very thorough knowledge of our City's neighborhoods, governance and current district boundaries. I fully support the Independent Redistricting Commission and I would be honored to serve.

During my 20-year career with the City of Long Beach, I served as the LBPD's first civilian Crime Analyst and the Neighborhood Nuisance Abatement Coordinator. As a supervisor in the Crime Analysis Unit, I had an active role in compiling emergency response and police district data for the 2000 redistricting efforts. During the 2010 redistricting, I was assigned to the City Manager's Office as the Neighborhood Nuisance Abatement Coordinator, and in that role provided unique information regarding the issues and trends in our neighborhoods. As result of my work, I fully understand the importance and the correlation between the Census tracts, policing districts, fire and emergency response directives, our neighborhood and communities, and even the LBUSD district maps.

Long Beach is a large diverse City with unique and distinctive neighborhoods. The challenge before the Commission will be to honor our diversity and neighborhoods while also ensuring that adequate representation in our elected.

I am active in numerous neighborhood and social organizations and currently serve on the LBCC Citizen Oversight Committee.

(Max. 1800 Characters, approximately 250-300 words)

There are several reasons as to why I wish to serve on the Independent Redistricting Commission. I would to help others, and myself, have a better understanding of communities and the demographics, and guide the flow of resources as equally as possible among the districts in Long Beach. I want to make certain that all neighborhoods have equal access to and influence over their elected representatives. It is critical that we ensure the rules of the game are fair and that all politicians have to serve voters. It means better representation of what matters most for thriving families and communities: good jobs, affordable housing, safe communities, better education, and ongoing voter and civic engagement.

My professional background includes me having served as Executive Director of a non-profit where I lead my team and center in its growth and expansion. Utilizing my analytic reasoning, assessment, and problem solving skills, I was able to identify areas within the organization that did not address the needs of diverse populations and communities. I created and updated programs within the organization to meet these needs. I also practiced as a mental health clinician for 11 years where I worked with clients of various backgrounds. This helped me to identify and gain a better understanding of individual and community needs and how they can be supported. I have a proven history of working well with and collaborating with professionals of diverse backgrounds, and with individuals of diverse ethnic, cultural, and socio economic backgrounds.

I am able to make impartial and sound judgement/decisions, and I am willing to listen to various points of views as this helps create dialogue and understanding. My unique professional background directly contributes to my ability to meet needs with innovative solutions and methodologies.

I have been a resident of Long Beach for over 20 years and have raised two children in this city. I was actively involved as a Volunteer In Public Schools throughout their education in the Long Beach Unified School District and my husband and I also participated as volunteer coaches within the youth league sports programs in Long Beach. Together we coached a girls soccer team for 4 years and he coached our son's baseball while I served as a team parent. My family and I have also participated in beach cleanups.

(Max. 1800 Characters, approximately 250-300 words)

I was born and raised in the City of Long Beach and have witnessed the city's landscape, population and culture evolve over the decades. As a lifetime resident, I have lived in West Long Beach, California Heights, Wrigley and currently, I am a resident in the South of Conant community. Each of these neighborhoods have contributed to my appreciation and understanding of the city's diversity, history, population, culture and needs. My first-hand experience is well complemented by my master's degree in City and Regional Planning from the University of California, Berkeley. My master's thesis on housing affordability was conducted under the guidance of Angela Reynolds in the Advance Planning Division of the City of Long Beach in 2003. During my internship with the department, I assisted the team in conducting a land survey of several census tracts in the city's downtown. After completing my graduate degree, I also contributed to the process of updating the Land Use Element of the General Plan. Since then, I have earned a doctoral degree in education and have dedicated my professional life to this field. My work has focused on high quality programs and equitable policies that can change the course of the life of students who have been historically underserved by the public-school system. While my doctoral degree training has provided the necessary skills to enhance my analytical and critical thinking skills, I also have experience as a board member. I recently completed a five-year term as board member on the CA State Board of Education. This state body, comprised of 11 board members, has given me ample training on consensus-building, engaging in collaborative discussions, compromise, ethics, clear and respectful communication, systems-thinking and other relevant skills that will suit me well in the role of commissioner if selected for the Independent Redistricting Commission.

11. Please describe why you wish to serve on the Independent Redistricting Commission and share any additional experience, community activities, or other qualifications that make you a strong candidate for the Commission, including, but not limited to, analytical skills, familiarity with the City's neighborhoods and communities, ability to be impartial, and ability to work cooperatively with other potential commissioners. (Max. 1800 Characters, approximately 250-300 words)

Participation in the political process is fundamental to our democracy and voting and representation lies at the center of this process. I feel that I can be an excellent redistricting commissioner because I believe in this principal wholeheartedly and because I have dedicated my civic involvement/ engagement in fulfilling this objective. My education and professional background also make me an exceptional commissioner because it is based in the social sciences and urban planning. Understanding the dynamics of neighborhoods and communities and what constitutes their character and make up is a core strength of mine, especially communities of color. Lastly, I work in a collaboration and open fashion and currently serve on two Long Beach non-profits and have served on numerous boards and committees in the past.
