Hi there,

I've been following your Instagram account for several months now, and my family is very much anticipating the grand opening! We're thrilled there is going to be a high quality butcher and meat shop right within our neighborhood. We are avid meat smokers and all-around cooks. We have needed a place like Meat and Vino here for a long time!

Big question is, when is the big day?!

Patiently waiting,
Meagan Dolce

Hello Long Beach officials!
As a long time resident (20 years this December) our family has seen wonderful growth and development in our wonderful California Heights neighborhood!
So many great small boutiques and restaurants have come and added so much value and additional charm.
We believe that Meat and Vino opening up on Wardlow will add a great destination and a valuable addition to our neighborhood. We are foodies and wine enthusiasts so we were so excited when we saw the signs go up. We fully support any licensing needed to get them up and running!

Thank you for listening

Subject: Mr Garcia, open this place.

I moved to Cal Heights in 2005.
I had seen it in Sunset Magazine a few years before not knowing I'd live here one day.
We are a solid community in Long Beach.
We rely on our ability to walk to establishments to eat out, drink out, get our hair done and now have a butcher.
That is the epitome of a historic neighborhood like ours.
The butcher.
I can't put in Home Depot energy efficient windows.
My 13 yo daughter makes fun of our awesome 1947 home and it's creaky drawers and windows.
If we'd have wanted modern we'd have bought modern.
Money wasn't an issue.
What would be fantastic is if I could walk two blocks and bring home wine and delicious meats of sea and land to eat with my family.
Mr Garcia or whomever...
I'm waiting patiently and so tired of driving to My mom's neighborhood butcher in West Grove.
Thanks for expediting in advance,
Stephanie
