There were requests for updates specific to the right-of-way self evaluation and transition plan and the Blueprint for Economic Inclusion and a presentation from Parks, Recreation and Marine to highlight all of our inclusive programming. Additionally, there was discussion about honoring Dr. Barry Levay, professor at CSULB, for his Camp Nugget program at the university before he retires in June 2020.

There was discussion about a new stakeholders group that Senator Gonzalez is taking the lead in putting together that will focus attention on housing and transportation concerns in the disability community. CACoD will eventually be invited to participate.
