Coastal Cleanup Day Volunteers Make a Difference at City Beaches

The El Dorado Nature Center staff coordinated a successful California Coastal Cleanup (CCC) Day event on September 17.

The team welcomed volunteers at six locations in Long Beach including Junipero Beach, Belmont Pier, 54th Place and Claremont Ave., Peninsula Beach, Mother's Beach and the Seal Beach Yacht Club area. From 9 a.m. to noon, almost 1,200 volunteers picked up an estimated 3,000 pounds of trash. It was great to see volunteers cleaning the beach after a storm the previous weekend brought in extra debris.

The California Coastal Commission reports that more than 27,000 volunteers removed over 125 tons of debris at CCC events across the state.

The El Dorado Nature Center encourages environmental stewardship and conducts an ongoing Adopt-A-Beach program as well as 3rd Saturday cleanups at Colorado Lagoon and 4th Saturday cleanups El Dorado Regional Park.

Director's Corner

Brent Dennis

Director, Long Beach Parks, Recreation & Marine and ACS

Autumn is upon us and our parks and beaches are looking great. Although not quite as heavily patronized as the busy months of summer, park landscapes are strikingly beautiful with the colorful fall foliage. As a Department, we are thankful that to have managed to make it through the Metropolitan Water District's outdoor watering restrictions that lasted two weeks during some extreme heat days. Mother Nature helped greatly with some natural rainfall to maintain the greenness of our sports fields and open lawn areas.

With local schools back in full swing, our Community Recreation Services team has been coordinating the staff coverage at after-school sites to double the capacity now available thanks to the increase in State of California funding. The CRS Team was very involved in the recent Youth Festival that was held in Lincoln Park the last Sunday in September. Well attended and involving scores of community resources, the event attracted hundreds of area youth and families for a fun day in our newest park.

So many great advancements over at Long Beach Animal Care Services have been celebrated lately! The return of regular hours of pet adoption for the public has contributed to an all-time record of annual adoptions. As of this publication of We Create Community, over 1,300 animals have successfully found new adoptive homes, up from the previous year's record of 900. New staff and volunteers are helping make a huge difference in operations and improved customer service. The newly paved and striped parking lot adds enhanced curb appeal to the facilities along with helpful directional signs.

The City of Long Beach began its new fiscal year budget on October 1, 2022. Our Department will see significant capital improvement projects begin soon and you are encouraged to watch our website for project progress and significant updates. One major project finally taking flight is the renovations of the El Dorado Park West Duck Pond. A perimeter construction fence has been erected and efforts are underway to relocate wildlife who have made the Duck Pond their home. We are grateful for the professional assistance of Humane Rescue to help re-home the flightless birds before the pond is de-watered this month.

The department's fiscal year 2023 operating budget of $74 million contains welcomed structural budget enhancements for beautification efforts that include tree trimming, weed abatement, and water for irrigation. Investments in maintenance staffing, animal care medical services, and an array of customer service improvements are on the way. An impressive half-decade of proposed infrastructure improvement projects includes approximately $100 million for Parks, Recreation, Marine and Animal Care facilities.

October has awesome seasonal events that include many 'trunk or treat' Halloween events at our community centers and the 26th Annual Historical Cemetery Tour planned for Saturday, October 29th from 9a.m. to 3p.m. Stay safe and have fun throughout the month of October. Parks Make Long Beach...Parks Make Life Better!

Howl-o-Ween is Back at El Dorado Nature Center

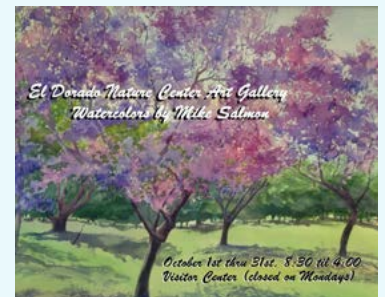

It's Back!!!

The Friends of El Dorado Nature Center and Partners of Parks will host the Howl-o-Ween Festival on Saturday, October 22 from 2 – 6 p.m. This is a family friendly event. Parent participation is required for children under 16 years of age. Don't forget to wear your Howl-o-Ween finest. Join us for this spook-tacular event. For more information call 562.570.1745.

New Gallery Show

El Dorado Nature Center's new gallery show features watercolor artist Mike Salmon. Mike finds that painting water color pieces is a way to disconnect from the digital world and allow him to express himself. Living on the central coast of California, he loves taking inspiration from nature and depicting the places and animals around his home. The show runs through October. For information call 562.570.1745.

City Hosts Second Annual Long Beach Youth Festival

The free festival featured an interactive resource fair and activities, including therapy dog sessions, art, music, games, sports, local entertainment, educational workshops and networking opportunities with representatives from employers and colleges. In addition, free food and merchandise, raffle prizes, and performances and showcases from local poets, artists and dancers was offered.

Several City Departments collaborated with the Health and Human Services Office of Youth Development, and the City's Youth and Families Commission to host the second annual Youth Festival at the Billie Jean King Main Library and Lincoln Park on September 24. Young people ages 10 to 24 participated in the free event dedicated to celebrating the wellness, resilience and empowerment of youth.

The Long Beach Public Library hosted workshops and activities, Parks, Recreation and Marine brought their mobile resource program to Lincoln Park, and Economic Development's workforce arm, Pacific Gateway, coordinated a job and college fair to connect young people to local employers and schools.

The festival's activities and workshops were in alignment with the youth-informed goals of the Youth and Emerging Adults Strategic Plan: <https://bit.ly/3EgZRDh>.

Commission on Youth and Families Recognizes Teen Volunteers

The Commission on Youth and Families recognized 62 teens at their September 21 meeting for completing 10 or more volunteer hours at Parks, Recreation and Marine summer programs including Fun Days, Day Camps and Be S.A.F.E.

The Commission on Youth and Families advises Mayor and City Council on issues relating to the City's provision of services to youth and children, and annually reviews the City's legislative agenda and Education and Youth Strategic Plan.

Parks, Recreation & Marine Recreational Dog Facilities

Long Beach is fortunate to have several facilities for Long Beach residents to exercise their dogs off leash. Most facilities feature spaces for both large and small dogs, benches for owners, free doggie waste bags and water fountains. Double entrance and exit gates provide a secure environment for dogs. The Dog Parks are non-supervised facilities. Patrons should use recreational dog facilities at their own risk. The City of Long Beach accepts no responsibility for the behavior of dogs or dog owners. Please refer to the Dog Park / Dog Zone Rules. Visit <https://www.longbeach.gov/park/park-and-facilities/directory/dog-parks/> for more information.

Long Beach Animal Care Services Howl-o-ween Event

Long Beach Animal Care Services (LBACS) is excited to announce the First Howl-o-ween Event on Saturday, October 29, from 5 to 7 p.m. The free event will take place at the Long Beach Animal Shelter located at 7700 E. Spring St. The public is encouraged to attend in costume for a costume contest and have pet treats ready for activities. The evening of family fun will include Adoption Specials, a Bark-o-Treat, the Best Cat Room Contest, Costume Contests, Raffles, Day of the Dead Pet Memorial, and more. The Shelter asks the community members not to bring their pets to the event.

“We are excited to open our adoption service at this fun and festive time of year. We hope our community will have a chance to see the people and pets at our shelter having a pawsitively splendid time,” said Staycee Dains, LBACS Bureau Manager.

For more information, call 562.570.3094.

“This event is a fun way for our Animal Care Services Bureau to connect with the public and raise awareness of adoption programs and other important services that support the health and welfare of animals,” said Brent Dennis, Director of Parks, Recreation, and Marine.

Beach Maintenance Team Keeps Peninsula Area Safe During Storm

On the evening of Thursday, September 8, Long Beach was hit with a combination of high tides, surf and swells that washed out almost all the sand berms in the low-lying Peninsula area. Beach Maintenance crews jumped into action running dozers, front end loaders and dump trucks to repair the road so work on rebuilding the berm was completed before the next high tide event. While staff was successful in restoring the most berms, there was a complete washout in impact zones between 64 – 67th Places. Thanks to the crews from the Harbor, Water, Energy, and Public Works Fleet Maintenance Departments who came in to help support the 24-hour operation, for a total of six days and five nights.

Long Beach Animal Care Services Offers Safety Reminders About Coyotes

This is the time of year that coyote pups become more visible in the community because they are growing up and leaving their dens more frequently. Coyotes do not require open space to survive and have successfully adapted to living in urban and suburban neighborhoods.

Coyotes can be seen at any time of day, although they are most active at dusk, dawn and at night. Residents are reminded to follow important safeguards to protect pets and property against these and other wild or unwanted animals.

The following techniques are recommended to compassionately co-exist with coyotes and to protect yourself and your pets:

- Keep pets, especially cats and small dogs, inside.
- Keep pet food indoors, and if feeding pets outdoors, supervise feeding and remove the food bowls within an hour.
- Stay close to pets when they are outside and keep them on a leash, especially between dusk and dawn.
- Harvest ripe fruit from trees and remove fallen fruit from the ground. Coyotes can climb trees to eat fruit.
- Bag food waste and make sure trash containers are securely closed.

Use “hazing” techniques to shoo away coyotes, such as:

- Standing tall, yelling and waving arms.
- Using a whistle, air horn, bell or other noisemaking device.
- Banging pots or pans together.
- Stomping your feet.
- Flashing bright lights at the coyote.
- Spraying the coyote with a water hose or pepper spray.
- Throwing tennis balls or sticks toward the coyote.
- Never run from a coyote. Running from a coyote can instigate the coyote’s prey instinct to chase.
- Never feed coyotes or any other outdoor or wild animals.

Long Beach’s Coyote Management Plan outlines how Animal Care Services can respond to concerns about coyotes. Email animalcare@longbeach.gov or call 562.570.7387 to request informational flyers, schedule a speaker for a neighborhood watch or community meeting or to determine if an Animal Control Officer is needed.

It is important to make reports about any coyote activity and encounters to Long Beach Animal Care Services by visiting www.longbeach.gov/acs/wildlife. An Animal Control Officer will respond to coyote calls if the coyote is sick or injured, or out in the daytime in areas near people, especially children at parks or schools or anytime there is an attack or threatening behavior toward a person or pet. If a coyote is posing an imminent threat to life, call 9-1-1.

Congratulations August Employee of the Month-Daveth Yoak

Congratulations to Daveth Yoak, Employee of the Month for August. Daveth recently answered a few questions about himself so we can get to know him better.

What's the last TV show you binge-watched? The last TV show I binge-watched was Cobra Kia Season 5 on Netflix.
