

AMERICAN HOTEL/PSYCHIC TEMPLE SITE PLAN

228 EAST BROADWAY
LONG BEACH, CA. 90802

228 EAST BROADWAY
LONG BEACH, CA. 90802

American Hotel / Psychic Temple Exterior Elevations

West
3/8" = 1'-0"

AMERICAN HOTEL /
PSYCHO THERAPY
WEST EXTERIOR WALL

WEST WALL
(VANDALIZED TO BE PAINTED OVER)

EAST WALL
WITH ORIGINAL BRICKS
(NOT TO BE PAINTED OVER)

KAMI & SASU SKETCH FOR AMERICAN HOTEL / PSYCHIC TEMPLE

KAMI & SASU

The collaboration work of KAMI and SASU from 1999, aimed at expanding the stage for creativity rooted in the dimension of street culture. Their distinctive worldview stems from the fluid interaction between the dynamically flowing curves fashioned by KAMI, and the strong and flamboyant symmetric motifs engineered by SASU. This vision breathes new life into the sense of beauty derived from the street, and has succeeded in invigorating the era with a steady stream of vivid new landscapes. The pair views art as lying in the domains of their everyday lives, and while based in Tokyo, continues to lead a lifestyle interspersed with creative journeys around Japan and to overseas. "HITOTZUKI", stands for the sun and the moon, being contrary to one another, they differ yet fuse together. Through their ideology, depicting scenery from their lifestyle and feelings.

