 Subject: Fw: UNFAIR Agenda Item #8 on City Council Agenda - ADP

Ms. Schipske:

Thanks for the "lesson" on fiduciary responsibility and defamation.

I just read your diatribe on LB Report. Isn't it great that they seem so willing to post every opinion you have as opposed to those of other council people and/or City officials?

They sure do

seem to get all the "insider" information very quickly.

You do have some facts wrong. The City's RFP was actually very comprehensive and was easily understood by those companies who placed a bid. It was the City Council who decided not to fund the project. All vendors know that because we closely follow the subject in the marketplace.

The City's current system is actually acceptable and has much more functionality than others used by most City governments. But, of course, since you are not a payroll system expert, I would not expect you to know that. Also, the City's payroll is processed internally ... nothing is sent to an outside company.

Now for ADP. What good is a "total cost of ownership" for one small part of the city's needs for new systems? Reference Mr. Gross's recent presentation. What about the HR System and the Finance System who all must "talk to" the time entry system? Of course ADP tells you they contract with another company to do the study. Did they also tell you they use the same company each time

they offer this "free" service?

I applaud the City Manager and City Attorney for pointing out the issues with this agenda item. Hopefully the Council will take heed.

Ms. Schipske, I believe you stated that you have never received nor would accept any political contribution from anyone associated with ADP. Also I know you have said recently Long beach should ban contributions from lobbyists and contractors. The attached was found on the City Clerk's website.

Perhaps this report is incorrect?

I would strongly caution you to be careful when you write an email asserting that any action taken by me is a payoff. I have no connection with adp nor does mr delong. We are trying to get an outside assessment of how much the city is spending on personnel processing and how much we can save. That is called fiduciary responsibility. Your comments are defamation.

Gerrie

Subject: UNFAIR Agenda Item #8 on City Council Agenda - ADP

This item shows preferential treatment to one vendor (ADP) as it relates to the multi-million dollar project of replacing the City's financial, payroll and other systems (reference public presentation made by Finance Director on March 5). It was clear from his presentation that new systems are needed. Many, many other firms are interested in this project and have been watching for the new RFP to become available.

Now it looks like 2 Councilmembers are paying back political favors to ADP to give them a free preview to the City's operation so they can get a one-up on all the other companies that might be in contention.

Even more unbelievable is that Schipske subscribes to "open" government but somehow fails to mention she received a campaign donation from Michael A. DeForeest ... who you guessed it .. listed his title as Payroll Manager for ADP!

Long Beach ... you owe the business community better than that. And yes, we are watching.
