

R-27 CORRESPONDENCE – Robert Brown

From: B. Brown [<mailto:jbbrown143@verizon.net>]
Sent: Monday, August 24, 2015 10:51 AM
To: jbbrown143@verizon.net; cityclerk
Cc: Mayor; stacy@stacymungo.com
Subject: Prominate SF bookstore to close because of minimum wage

The $15 wage is already costing jobs.
Please take 2 minutes to view article $15 wage fatal.
<http://www.nfib.com/article/bnews-prominent-san-francisco-bookstore-to-close-citing-minimum-wage-increase-67832/>
Thank you
Robert Brown

On 08/04/15, B. Brown wrote:

Poonam Davison: thank you for allowing me to comment on $15 wage.
The minimum wage is not meant to be a living wage. It is so young people can get jobs, gain experience, save for a car. It is not meant to support a family. Look at cities like Seattle whose businesses are letting people go and hiring less so they can compete. Please keep Long Beach businesses competitive. According to YAHOO finance the $15 wage will cost 6.6 million jobs, at $12 an hour 3.8 million jobs will be lost.
Thank you
Robert Brown