I want to thank Angela Reynolds, Pete Ronca, and the Long Beach Police Department. When I came to the City Managers' office last December I was in tears. The dumpsters behind my property were a constant source of trash, feces, urine, and transients sleeping on discarded furniture. I was at my wits end because the owners just ignored me when I asked them to fence in their dumpsters. And I got nowhere with Code Enforcement. Angela assigned Pete Ronca, the nuisance abatement officer, to the property. After my many E mails to Pete and phone calls to the Long Beach Police Department to document the problems, Pete was able to convince the owners to fence in their property. The horrendous activities have almost completely stopped. The tenants and other residents in the area are grateful as well.

As they say "A Picture is Worth A Thousand Words". You can see what a difference the fence has made.

Thank you from the bottom of my heart. We've made this neighborhood a little cleaner and a little safer.
