Hello,

I have lived in University Park for over 20 years. I know most of us were here when we found out about Ashlee. We have been to the bench several times and I am in agreement that the are should be designated as Ashlee's Park.

Kindest Regards,
Sheri Stuhl

Good evening and happy Mother's Day. I know that I'm not the first, nor the last who will be writing you in regards to this, but I wholeheartedly agree that Channel Park, should be renamed in on of Ashlee, who lost her life in the channel. Channel is not the most attractive name for a park and I'm pretty sure everyone in the community agrees, that the honor of renaming it Ashlee park, is much more pleasant and meaningful.

Throwing in my email and vote for the name change.

Thank you,

Jason Teitel

Subject: Ashlee's Park

-EXTERNAL-

Good morning,

Are over 70 emails enough or do we need more? Also, I am including the comments from the ND post.

ASHLEE'S PARK! As you know Ashlee Armond is Officer Rich Armond's daughter. Ashlee was a wonderful young woman with a great sense of humor, who cared deeply about all living creatures. There was not a stray that she did not adopt. We lost Ashlee in 2014, at twenty years old when her car went into the water at Channel View Park. How would people feel about renaming the small portion of the park where she lost her life and her bench is located, Ashlee's Park? Rich has worked tirelessly to take care of our community and to help the homeless off the streets of Long Beach. This would mean the world to Rich & Shelly. Please let us know how you would feel about this proposal. UPDATE: We just received permission to plant a Western Redbud tree by the bench. The tree planting will take place as soon as we can pick up the tree! If you are not able to comment please click share & repost and comment.

I met Rich while waiting for a tow truck in the storage facility as you enter the freeway. He was on duty and stopped to make sure I was okay. He stayed and told me about his daughter and the accident. He pointed to where her bench is. He was so very sad. It broke my heart. Yes rename the park.

Gosh, 2014, the sadness of this tragedy came alive again as if it were now. I'll always remember meeting a group her girlfriends at the nail salon a short time after as they had to learn to move forward in their young lives without their good friend Ashlee. Renaming the park "Ashlee's Park" is an excellent tribute. Ashlee, with her positive outlook & kind heart touched so many lives, it's fitting to honor her & her dedicated father for his service as well as her mother & brother. God Bless the Armond family.

First, my sincere condolences to her friends and family. Good idea, but I do think Ashley's story should be shared. Ashley was unfortunately intoxicated and paid in the worst way for it and by no means should be defined by that night, but I think many could learn from Ashlee's unfortunate mistake, she was only 20 years old. I say, yes celebrate her and use her story to help others realize the reality of real consequences.

I did not know Ashley or her family but a very good friend of mine lives on that street. There is not one time when I drive down Studebaker that I don't think of her when I see the barricade they put up so it never happens again. Love the idea of naming the park after her. ❤️

Yes. Please let me know how this is done as I am trying to figure out best way to remember and honor Tom Stout who founded the Long Beach Taxpayers and ran many campaigns in this city. Most recently against measure M, which was just overturned. He wrote all the con ballot arguments, in fact when he did not submit one for last measure before he died, the Mayor had the City Clerk call him and asked home to write it!

I believe she was a fine person and her death was a tragedy for many. But why her? I vote for naming it after a teacher who - may be dead now or not - who taught at the neighborhood school for many years and really made a tangible difference in the lives of hundreds or more children. If people want her remembered, raise $$ and pay for something else. Plaque at a school she went to or something like that? That park is for all of us all over the city. When did the accident occur?

This is only for the small part of the park in the picture, not the entire park. Please read the post. This is a large park and there a options for other parts of the park to be named. Also, a person must be deceased to have a naming.
